

Availability guarantee

from moll Funktionsmöbel GmbH, 73344 Gruibingen, Germany

(Status 02/2010)

1. Guarantee services

The guarantee means that any extension components in the same or similar décor, jewel colours and design that were in our delivery programme at the time of purchase can be added to the moll desk at any time. We reserve the right to modify models and designs at any time.

Subject to the variations in the structure and colour of the item being delivered in comparison with the display item and other versions or items of furniture in a series that are usual and in the nature of solid wood. The buyer cannot make any warranty and/or guarantee claims for these variations.

The following items are not generally included in the availability guarantee: items in the "Science" system with coloured sides or sides in wood décor, all electrical items, all chairs and special ranges, limited editions and other products that are not listed in our catalogue or on our website.

2. Period of the guarantee

The period of the guarantee shall commence with the initial purchase of the product from an authorised moll specialist dealer and shall run for five years; regardless of this date, the period of the guarantee shall end no later than five years after we have ceased production of the product. The beginning of the period of the guarantee shall be the date of the invoice.

The period of the guarantee is not extended when a guarantee claim is made, nor is it extended when services are performed under the guarantee.
